

Congratulations!

This Henkel Harris piece features 100% genuine natural marble. With proper care it will last for generations, providing you and your family many years of aesthetic and functional pleasure.

Understanding Natural Stone

The color and veining found in this stone have been created by nature through massive geological processes. Your marble is therefore unique, with no two pieces being alike. Many of the marble's inherent qualities such as veins, fissures and voids can be felt on its surface. When necessary, some of these voids have been filled. The fills are not flaws – they merely enhance the marble's smoothness and make nature's creation more adaptable for use as furniture.

Cleaning Tips

To keep your marble looking its best, clean it with a damp cloth, wipe up spills immediately and occasionally polish with a stone polish. Other types of polishes may harm the finish. Never use harsh and abrasive cleaners.
